(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Tuesday, Dec. 3.—Speaking at Boodle tonight, Andrew Bonar Law, the chancellor of the exchequer, confirmed the statement that the British government had decided to press the allies as strongly as possible that the surrender of former Emperor William should be demanded and that he should stand his trial.

The chancellor also announced that the government had appointed a committee to examine scientifically into the question of how much the enemy would be able to pay. The government would propose such procedure to the allies and he believed it would be adopted. An inter-allied committee would then inquire into the whole question and decide what amount was obtainable. Steps would then be taken to secure its payment.

As Colonel E. M. House, the American representative, was unable to attend the allied conference in London yesterday and today, Mr. Bonar Law added it was impossible that a decision could be reached on any point. He was, therefore, now only expressing the views of the British government.

ALLIES AGREE TO MAKE
GERMANY PAY HEAVILY

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Tuesday, Dec. 3.—All the nations represented at the inter-allied conference here today may be regarded as in agreement with the policy of Lloyd George as to compelling Germany to pay to the limit of her capacity. The allied representatives were also agreed on the proposition of bringing to trial those responsible for outrages on humanity during the war.

The allies of the Americans and other allied representatives, it is understood the conference made all the preliminary arrangements possible for the peace conference.

Four separate conferences were held today, one of the main objects being to secure the endorsement by the representatives of the dominion of the conclusions reached at Monday's conference. Therefore Premier Borden of Canada, Lloyd of New Zealand, Hughes of Australia, and General Christlan Smuts, from the Union of South Africa, were called into consultation with the British cabinet members concerning the affairs of the dominions.

Premier Lloyd George presided at all the meetings. The Earl of Reading, British ambassador to the United States; Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the admiralty; and Lord Curzon, the first lord, and a number of the military chiefs also joined in the consultation. Toward the close of the proceedings the members of the imperial war council, with many technical shipping experts, were called in.

The result was that the accommodations of the cabinet room became insufficient and the conference adjourned to the large dining room, where at 6:30 o'clock the conference finally ended.

It is understood a general agreement was reached on the matters deliberated upon, but out of courtesy to the United States, in the absence of Admiral Woodrow Wilson, it will be necessary to acquit President Wilson in detail with the decisions before they are made public.

ment on Attitude of Schools

With a number of the doctors' reports not made, 42 cases of influenza were reported as having developed yesterday. The health board was notified of but one death yesterday.

According to Superintendent O. J. Barnes, 977 children were absent from school Monday, owing to slight colds and influenza. A complete canvass made on Monday and Tuesday by the teachers, show 195 cases of influenza among the children. On Tuesday the absentees numbered 793.

Superintendent Barnes made the following statement concerning conditions in the public schools:

"The public schools are doing everything in their power to stamp out the influenza epidemic in our city. Instructions have been given teachers that no pupil having even a cold shall be permitted to attend school while the epidemic lasts. Furthermore, no teacher having a cold will be permitted to teach. In addition to the regular recess, the teachers are to ventilate their rooms thoroughly twice during the forenoon session and once during the afternoon session. At these times, the teachers are to give the pupils drill in calisthenics. In the high school, the rooms are to be thoroughly ventilated during the change of classes. The schools are entering upon an educational program with both pupils and parents that ought to help very materially in curbing up the health situation of the city."

"There are eight buildings in the city having up-to-date ventilating systems. These buildings are High School, Hartzel, Woodside, Mound, Dargain, Conner, Keller and Cherry Valley. There are 2752 children attending these schools. In the remaining buildings in which ventilation is accomplished by means of windows and transoms, the greatest of care is being exercised to see that the children have plenty of fresh air. In fact, all the children of the city while in school are getting purer air than these same children get at the average home. When we consider the average home, we are sure that the children of the city are much better off in school than out of school, providing everything else is equal."

FRONTIER OF 1870
CROSSED BY FOCHPerfect Order Marks Occupation of Former Territory
by French Armies.

(Associated Press Telegram)
With the French Army in Germany, Tuesday, Dec. 3.—The Tenth French army on its way to the Rhine and Mayence has crossed the German frontier and is occupying the valley of the Saar. The advance into German territory has been without incident and appears likely to be carried out in perfect order and quiet.

The population of the districts thus far reached appears to be more astonished than downcast, and those that come into direct contact with the French officers and men show more politeness than displeasure. The imperial functionaries in charge receive the French military authorities with coolness but without rudeness.

Town and country life are proceeding to all appearances undisturbed by the momentous historical incident. Women and boys with mixed teams of horses and cattle go on with their plowing and the smoke continues to pour from the chimney stacks, for this is a coal region that resembles the Lehigh valley. Most of the men in civilian dress notice the French uniforms, while some give the troops a sullen glance and others gaze in staring wonder at the columns and their wagon trains as if the reality of the situation had not yet dawned upon them.

The children are cordial in greeting the French soldiers.

—Army Band Plays "Over There"

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Dec. 4.—Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States, sailed today for Europe to participate as one of five representatives of the United States to the peace conference to be held in France. The transport George Washington got under way at 10:15 a. m.

The president's party included two other members of the American delegation—Secretary of State Robert Lansing and Henry White, former ambassador to France and Italy. Colonel E. M. House and General Tucker H. Bliss, the other two members, are already in Europe. As the George Washington swung out into the North river on a voyage unprecedented in American history, President and Mrs. Wilson stood on the flying bridge, the highest point to which passengers could climb. An army band on the shore played "Over There."

For the first time in the nation's history a president stepped on board a steamship which was to take him to Europe, when today Woodrow Wilson walked up the gangplank of the George Washington, berthed at a Hoboken pier.

A picturesque military reception was accorded the president, Mrs. Wilson, Secretary of War Baker, Secretary Lansing, Secretary Tumulty, and others who were passengers on the special train, which reached Hoboken at 7:30 a. m.

Between the spur of track on which the train drew up at the entrance to the pier and the North river terminus of the pier, an army of American flags and banners erupted. As the president stepped from the train and shook hands with General G. H. McManus, bugles and drums sounded and an army band played "Liberty and Justice for All." American guards and members of the army transport service were drawn up in military formation.

Accompanied by General McManus and his staff, the presidential party moved slowly and the army of flags and banners moved solid rows of soldiers, who presented arms as the president and Secretary Baker passed.

Admiral Albert Gleaves, head of the cruiser and transport division of the Atlantic fleet, met the president and shook hands with him at the entrance to the gangway.

The president said goodbye to General McManus and, accompanied by Admiral Gleaves, went aboard the transport where he was introduced to Captain McCauley, the commander of this former North German Lloyd steamship. Secretary Baker planned to leave the George Washington before it got under way. Secretary Tumulty, however, remained on board for a final conference with the president, and it had been arranged for a tugboat to take him off at quarantine and bring him back to the pier.

President and Mrs. Wilson had breakfast alone in the private dining room which is part of their suite. Later they took a short stroll on the ship's deck and were applauded by persons assembled on the pier.

The president, in high spirits, said he was looking forward to the voyage as a rest—indeed, the first real rest since he assumed office. He remarked that it might be "a long and weary voyage," thus acknowledging his reputation for being a very poor sailor. The George Washington with its convoy of war vessels will take the southern route, going by way of the Azores in order to avoid the rougher seas which would be encountered on the north route.

An office desk in one room of the president's suite was piled high with telegrams and official documents of the day before the president's departure. It was the president would plunge into work even before the George Washington got out to sea.

A wireless telegram is expected to be received by the president late today from Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, announcing the acceptance or rejection of the treasury secretaryship by the man to whom it has been offered.

With the president waving his hat to cheering throngs aboard the ship, which crowded nearby waters, the George Washington turned her head toward the sea shortly after 10:30 o'clock. As the big liner straightened her course the presidential salute of 21 guns thundered from the transport's guns which during more than a year of war had served to defend thousands of American soldiers from German submarine attacks.

The big ship backed more than half way down the river before she turned and when two destroyers and a naval tug took her in escort for the trip down the bay the maneuver was witnessed by a multitude of persons crowding roofs and upper windows on New York city streets and piers on both sides of the Hudson.

As the fleet started down the bay a squadron of airplanes dropped from the clouds and executed a series of daring loops above the president's ship.

The liner and its convoy steamed toward the sea with the George Washington's band playing martial airs and with harbor craft of all types, tooting whistles in salute to the departing chief executive.

On Staten Island, whose shores were black with throngs who had waited since early morning to witness a precedent-breaking spectacle in American history, the George Washington met its ocean convoy—the dreadnaught Pennsylvania, and a quintet of destroyers, trim in new coats of battleship grey. As the squadron passed through the gate in the submarine net which stretches across the narrows and within 500 feet of the Staten Island shore, a group of several hundred school children was transported by a word of command into a sea of waving flags.

The presidential fleet passed quarantine time at 11 o'clock. Gunboats in the lower bay fired in salute.

As the squadron started out to sea a single airplane, traveling only 50 feet above the water, could be seen leading the way toward the eastern horizon.

Across the waters of the Hudson just as the George Washington was about to sail, there came the roaring cheer of more than 2000 American soldiers returning to American shores on the British transport Lapland. From crowded rigging, from densely-packed rafts, and from every porthole the home-coming soldiers shouted greetings to the president and from the decks of the presidential liner and the destroyers guarding her, answering cheers came back.

The usual barred zone was widely extended and only those armed with special passes were allowed to approach the streets leading to the dock. Military police kept an all-night vigil over the route from the railroad station to the pier, while hundreds of agents of the secret service and of the army and navy intelligence service watched the side streets and kept inquisitive persons from the move. War vessels kept a close patrol of the waters near the transport, while at dawn army airplanes circled over the vicinity and maintained a watch from the air. Perhaps never before have such elaborate plans been mapped out to guard the departure of a president.

The long pier was gaily decorated with thousands of flags and bunting. A canopy, consisting of a mass of American flags and emblems of the allies, extended over the gangplank.

It was the paintings of George and Martha Washington occupied the space in the salon formerly taken up by a large painting of the German emperor.

It is understood that Dr. Garfield plans to take up again his duties as president of Williams college after the Christmas holidays and that his resignation was sent to the White House so that the president might act on it before sailing today for Europe.

The fuel administration will continue to operate at least until the end of the present winter and it will continue in control of the anthracite coal supply.

CZECHS GARRISON PART OF BOHEMIA

Disintegration of Austrian Empire Continues and Food Situation Grows Serious.

(Associated Press Telegram.) Vienna, Friday, Dec. 29.—The disintegration of the former Austro-Hungarian empire goes on apace and is accompanied by fighting, here and there, and the depredations of marauding bands. Meanwhile, the food situation in Vienna becomes more perilous each day.

Czecho-Slovak forces are reported to have occupied Bodenbach, near the German frontier, thereby cutting from Vienna large stores of provisions belonging to the German-Austrian republic. It had been planned to send these stores to Vienna by way of Munich.

The Czecho-Slovaks have garrisoned the larger part of German Bohemia and are said to be pressing toward the frontiers of upper Austria. The rapidity of the Czecho-Slovak advance is illustrated by the report of a woman of Vienna who went to Raab, 50 miles southeast recently, and found the town occupied by the Czechs.

In the south the Jugo-Slavs have occupied Marburg, which claims to be a German city. Their forces also have entered the provinces of Carinthia and Styria.

In the northeast the Poles continue their fight with the Ukrainians and are advancing over the Carpathian mountains to the frontiers of Hungary. They are reported to be robbing the Jews as they go.

A Rumanian army has marched into Bukovina as far as Kolembea on the River Pruth. It is claimed in Vienna that this force is clearly out of the limits of the Rumanian sphere in Bukovina. Vienna is outwardly calm. The winter snows have come and the restaurants are filled with well-dressed people.

Although the new government appears to be composed of competent and well-intentioned men, they are being overwhelmed by the problem of feeding and keeping two million persons warm. The price of food continues to jump. A piece of chocolate smaller than an American silver dollar sells for $3. There also is a lack of fats. Pork is selling at $3 a pound.

Men and women who go into neighboring states to obtain food and bring it to Vienna relate that they have been robbed at the frontiers by Czecho-Slovak or Hungarian sentries, although both countries have plenty of food. A Jewess who has arrived in Vienna from Polish Galicia says she was robbed of $20,000. She was made to sign a paper declaring that she had voluntarily contributed the sum to soldiers' charities.

WILL MARSHALL TAKE WILSON'S PLACE WHILE LATTER ATTENDS PEACE MEETING?

Vice President and Mrs. Marshall.

The impression is general in Washington that President Wilson does not intend to relinquish his duties as president during his stay abroad. The constitution provides, however, that the vice president shall act as president in case the latter shall leave the country. It is therefore within the possibilities that Vice President Marshall will be at the head of the government during the president's absence, while Mrs. Marshall will assume, for a few weeks, the title of "first lady of the land."

Thermometer Unaffected by Wind

Wind has no effect on a thermometer. Wind is simply air in motion, and the motion of the air does not change its temperature. Wind, coming in contact with the human body, produces a sensation of coldness, not because it is colder than air at rest. This sensation may be caused by the rapid contact of warm air with the body as well as by the rapid contact of cold air. The use of a fan in warm weather brings relief not by cooling the air but by setting it in motion and bringing rapidly changing masses of it in contact with the human body. But it would not have that effect on an inanimate and insensitive thermometer. You cannot make mercury contract by fanning the thermometer.

Relieves Deafness Stops Head Noises

Nine out of ten cases of Deafness and Head Noises are caused by catarrhal mucus (mucous) in the Eustachian Tube, which connects the nose and the ear. Leonard Ear Oil removes the mucus, opens up the tube and the other air passages of the head, and the result is improved hearing and relief from Head Noises. It is not put in the ear, but is "rubbed in back of ears" and inserted in the nostrils, and "Common Sense" Directions.

Care of Hearing—which accompanies each bottle, tells you exactly how to take care of your own case. Do not be misled by substitutes or imitations. The only genuine "LEONARD EAR OIL" is A. O. Leonard Ear Oil. It is the original and has been on the market since 1907, and every year it has relieved hundreds of people of their deafness, nor how deaf you are or what caused your deafness, or how many things you have already tried which have failed to relieve you. Leonard Ear Oil has relieved many such cases as your own. Why not try?

A Testimonial That Has Been SWORN TO

Subscribed and sworn to, before me this 13th day of November, 1918. Joseph B. Braman, Notary Public No. 221, City and County of New York.

Dear Mr. Leonard—Having had my hearing completely restored by Leonard Ear Oil I feel it an obligation to let you and others know what it has done for me. My deafness was caused by catarrh and I had been growing worse for years. I had become so deaf I was considering giving up my regular business because of my deafness. It was necessary for me to hear well in my regular work. After using less than two bottles of Leonard Ear Oil I hear as well as ever and am still on my job. Sincerely yours, JOSEPH A. HOLSTEIN BREEDER TO ADDRESS CLUB HERE

Some time ago the breeders of Holstein-Friesian cattle of Licking county met and formed a temporary organization. This organization was the outgrowth of the increasing number of pure-bred Holsteins in this county. While the dairy industry has grown remarkably during the last few years in Licking county there have been comparatively few pure-bred dairy cattle raised locally except Holsteins. The breeders feel that an organization of this kind will help in the buying and improvement of their stock.

To further bring the advantages of Holsteins and of Holstein club before the dairymen of the county they have secured Prof. Rider of Brattleboro, Vt., to deliver an address on December 12. The place of Prof. Rider's address will be announced later. Prof. Rider illustrates his talks and this, combined with the fact that he has had a wide experience in dairying will make him well worth hearing. He has had training at the University of Wisconsin and supervised the farm at Syracuse university, where he was also professor of animal husbandry and dairying. He has had practical experience in producing certified milk and in the developing high-producing Holsteins.

"Woman and Wife"

Alice Brady's second Select Star Series feature is "Woman and Wife," adapted from the ever-popular "Jane Eyre" by Charlotte Bronte. The picture will be shown at the Auditorium theatre today only.

When the story opens, Jane Eyre is living with her rich relatives, the Reeds; but the petulance of the Reeds causes her to be sent to an institution conducted by the heartless Brocklehurst. Jane's sweetness effects some influence over even him, however, and it is on his recommendation that she secures the position of governess to little Adele, the daughter of Edward Rochester.

He had parted from his wife, Valerie, when she became insane; and her mother had told him she was dead. Accordingly, when he falls in love with Jane, of whom little Adele has also become very fond, he proposes to her and is accepted. The announcement of the engagement is seen by Valerie's brother, Randal; he brings her to Rochester's apartment and blackmails him out of some money.

Added features are the one-reel Red Cross feature, "Rebuilding Broken Lives." The screening of this feature is only for today.

Theda Bara in "Salome"

Theda Bara in a production of "Salome" produced and directed by the Fox Film Corp. as the world's greatest cinema production will be the gala attraction at the Auditorium theatre starting today for two days only.

Produced by William Fox at a cost of one million three hundred thousand dollars, "Salome" will go down in history as a masterpiece and stamp Theda Bara as the ideal artist for this type of characterization. Theda Bara needs no introduction to the audience of this city. When she appeared in "Cleopatra," it seemed as if she had attained the apex of spectacular dramatic achievement. That was there to do after that, William Fox answered, "There is Salome" and now she has just finished the role of the enchantress of old Judea.

A few years ago the grand opera production of "Salome" caused a sensation throughout America. So far reaching was the impression it made that the fair, cruel daughter of Herod's wicked wife is now familiar to every man, woman and child. But the William Fox "Salome" while excluding objectionable features of the stage production, surpasses all other massive spectacles as the world war surpasses the "Jant to get Villa." "Salome" offers the glamour of the ancient world with the pomp and splendor of the times of Herod, the king. It offers one of the most powerful and touching stories, in ancient history. It offers the intrigues and plottings of a brilliant yet decadent court. It offers in John the Baptist, the inspiring example of a brave clean soul, unsullied by the lure of beauty, wealth and power, and yielding only to death when his head was demanded on a silver charger by the furious dancing woman "Salome" he had scorned.

"Salome" offers sublime stage pictures, gorgeous pageants; it offers the history, the art, the religion, the romance of the mightiest figures of all times.

There are over 3,000 in the cast. It took eight months to complete and was directed by J. Gordon Edwards the genius who staged Miss Bara's other sensation "Cleopatra."

Seats are now selling for all performances. All seats reserved. Two performances daily at 2:20 and 8:20 p. m.

"Experience"

Theatrical history promises to repeat in the present tour of the famous "Experience" modern morality play which is to be presented by William Elliott, F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest at the Auditorium, Saturday evening has been a long time in the making. This remarkable drama written by George V. Hobart. No play presented during the last ten years has possessed the popular appeal of "Experience." There are those who have complained that its lessons are trite and that its lines are full of platitudes. But all life, viewed in the mass as it must be in an allegorical presentation of this character, is trite.

"Experience" repeats itself in the life of every man and woman, insofar as the principal succession of events is concerned, and it is this very fact and the fact that the playwright has not cloaked his lesson in mysticism, has not surrounded it with involved or obscure incidents or clouded his meaning with occult phrasing that the play owes its remarkable popularity. Necessarily the admirable consistency of players which has been assembled to present the play has much to do with its success; it might easily be said that the play is an artist of ability and the roles are so admirably presented that there is not an instant in which the interest of the auditor is allowed to flag. Seats are to be placed on sale Thursday at 10 a. m.

ALHAMBRA

Tonight and Tomorrow. Just when everybody is looking forward to a fresh visitation from those inimitable lumps of the screen, Jane and Katherine Lee, the Alhambra theatre makes welcome announcement of their coming in a brand new play entitled, "Swat the Spy." Of course there are many other amusing characters in "Swat the Spy" who furnish precisely the appropriate foil and background for the little stars. These characters include a miscellaneous group of "kulture" worshippers, who take themselves more seriously than any one else does; a dignified, ferocious-looking man who suffers a continual disadvantage in his repeated attempts to cope with the "Baby Grands"; a selfish, food-wasting cook, and a newly arrived baby brother that causes many complications. The Lee children may be seen for two days at the Alhambra theatre beginning today.

Friday and Saturday.

If you have any gypsy blood in your family back in the dim and distant ages do not be surprised if at some time or the other you develop second sight or mind reading. This remarkable phenomena showed itself in Mary Magner's, who had a gypsy great grandmother. How this manifested itself will be seen in the Metro production, "In Judgment Of," which will be the attraction at the Alhambra theatre on Friday and Saturday for a two day engagement.

In "The Street of Seven Stars," by Mary Roberts Rinehart, the photograph attraction at the Grand theatre on Thursday and Friday the beautiful star, Doris Kenyon, wears some of the most remarkable gowns ever shown in pictures. The girl, heroine, Harmony Wells, forced by a distressing combination of circumstances to abandon her violin lessons in the Latin Quarter in Paris and seek employment with a modiste. It is as a human manner in the modiste's establishment that she appears resplendent in unique creations that will be likely to evoke a furor of admiration wherever they are shown on the screen.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, contained in any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

"HELPING HIMSELF"

Low Meat Prices vs. High Cattle Prices

If the farmer cannot get enough for his live stock, he raises less, and the packer gets less raw material.

If the consumer has to pay too much for his meat, he eats less of it, and the packer finds his market decreased.

The packer wants the producer to get enough to make live-stock raising profitable, and he wants the price of meat so low that everyone will eat it.

But all he can do, and what he would have to do in any case to stay in business, is to keep down the cost of processing the farmer's stock into meat so that the consumer pays for the meat and by-products only a little more than the farmer gets for his animals.

For example, last year Swift & Company paid for its cattle about 90 per cent of what it got for meat and by-products (such as hides, tallow, oils, etc.)

If cattle from the farm were turned miraculously into meat in the hands of retailers (without going through the expense of dressing, shipping and marketing), the farmer would get only about 1 1/2 cents per pound more for his cattle, or consumers would pay only about 2 1/4 cents per pound less for their beef!

Out of this cent or two per pound, Swift & Company pays for the operation of extensive plants, pays freight on meats, operates refrigerator cars, maintains branch houses, and in most cases, delivers to retailers all over the United States. The profit amounts to only a fraction of a cent, and a part of this profit goes to build more plants, to give better service, and to increase the company's usefulness to the country.

Pleasant Voices All Too Rare.

Poets and novelists endow women with beautiful voices. Thomas Hardy's "Eustacia" reminded one of the viola when she spoke. One cannot imagine "Sophia Western" "Beatrice," "Amelia" (Fielding's or Thackeray's), "Rathsheba" or poor "Tess" stammering the ear. Disagreeable voices even come out of studios in spite of singing teachers and masters in elocution; for agreeable singers and declaimers have sometimes a raw, coarse organ in conversation. There is a lack of home training, and too often children follow the example of the parents, although the latter may be happily married, even agreeing in vocal discordance.

Everything All Right.

Nellie was happily anticipating Santa Claus' visit. It was Christmas eve, and raining furiously. A friend happened in and said: "Santa Claus can't come tonight because it is raining." Nellie thought seriously a moment and said: "Oh, yes he can; he has his reindeers."

"There's a Reason"

GRANVILLE

(Special to The Advocate)

Granville, Dec. 4.—That this community still responds to the call of patriotism was splendidly demonstrated Tuesday evening by the crowd which packed so full of "food for thought," to Dr. S. Parkes Cardman of New York, deliver a lecture on "Our Duty in the Present Crisis." This speaker soon established cordial relations with his audience and his patriotic utterances were generously punctuated with applause. Dr. Cardman goes a long distance back in history for many of the causes which led up to the war. He stripped kings and emperors of their rappings and regalities and showed them to be men of no account, in all that goes to make up a man. The ex-Kaiser he said by reason of his physical equipment could never have obtained entrance into any Masonic lodge in the country; that he knew to be true. Two khugs are left in Europe to whom tribute of praise is due. Albert of Belgium and George of England—analysis of this lecture is impossible in a limited space, as it was packed so full of "food for thought," vigorous in denunciation, rich in historical and literary suggestion, sparkling with wit and humor, appealing in his patriotism, showing no traces of quiescence in the whole of his inspiring message, the speaker thrilled the crowd as a Granville audience is seldom thrilled by a public lecturer. Rev. B. F. Crawford of the Methodist church introduced the speaker and was the sole representative of the community church council on the platform, as the Presbyterians are as yet without a pastor and Dr. Brelsford is confined to his home with illness.

There will be another chorus rehearsed this week for "The Messiah" under direction of Director K. H. Ebbout—everyone is requested to be present on Friday evening at 6:29 in Recital hall. Mr. Eschman will have some interesting announcements to make as to the solists for the Christmas concert. The customary chorus work has been considerably shortened but the presentation this month of this immortal work promises to equal, if it does not surpass any past performance in Granville in its next appeal.

Mrs. W. P. Ullman is leader of the program for the Women's Missionary Meeting in the Baptist church, Friday afternoon at 2:30. All women of the church and congregation are cordially invited.

Mrs. J. M. Stuart opened her home in South Main street last evening for the meeting of the Fortnightly club. There was a good attendance and the splendid program was greatly enjoyed by members and guests.

The Pioneer Mending Bee will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. G. Sheldt.

42 FLU CASES.

Left open in case the schools were closed. In many places throughout the United States amusement and certain lines of business and public gatherings have been closed and the schools have not been closed.
 It is, therefore, the desire of the board of education, superintendent, principals and teachers, that the parents keep their children, when out of school, away from public places where there is sickness. They should be kept away from public gathering and crowds and it would not be a bad thing if the parents would take a lesson from the children and use every precaution themselves. People should keep out of homes where there is sickness except in places where they are needed for help and in such places no one should refuse a precautionary measure. The high school has suspended temporarily, all chapel services and the lecture course number which was to occur this coming Friday evening will be postponed to a date some time after the holidays.

"The public schools believe that the Board of Health at its meeting last Sunday acted wisely and unless the epidemic should get worse, we see no good reason why the public schools should be closed. We would be the last people to object to the closing of the schools if we thought the conditions would be better thereby. Many people have said to the superintendent during the last week that the schools should be closed and his reply invariably has been, 'Why close the schools and allow everything else to be open?' If discriminations are to be made, about the best place to begin would be to curtail the pleasures of the people before affecting essential business.

"We want the people of Newark to know the exact situation in the schools. On Monday of this week the average of 107 children were absent because of slight colds, others because they did not know that schools had resumed, and others because of having the flu. On Monday and Tuesday, the teachers made a complete canvass of the situation and they found that there are 195 cases of influenza among the children. Most of these cases were light. The majority of the children were absent because of slight colds and 195 cases of influenza. A large percent of those absent had colds and a very considerable number were absent because their parents were afraid to send them to school.

"Wednesday morning, the reports from the various school buildings of the city show that the conditions today will be slightly improved. It may seem a hardship on pupils who have been refused admittance but we feel that the conditions warrant such action and we ask the heartiest co-operation and support of the citizens of Newark in the effort that is being made in the schools to safeguard the health of the children.

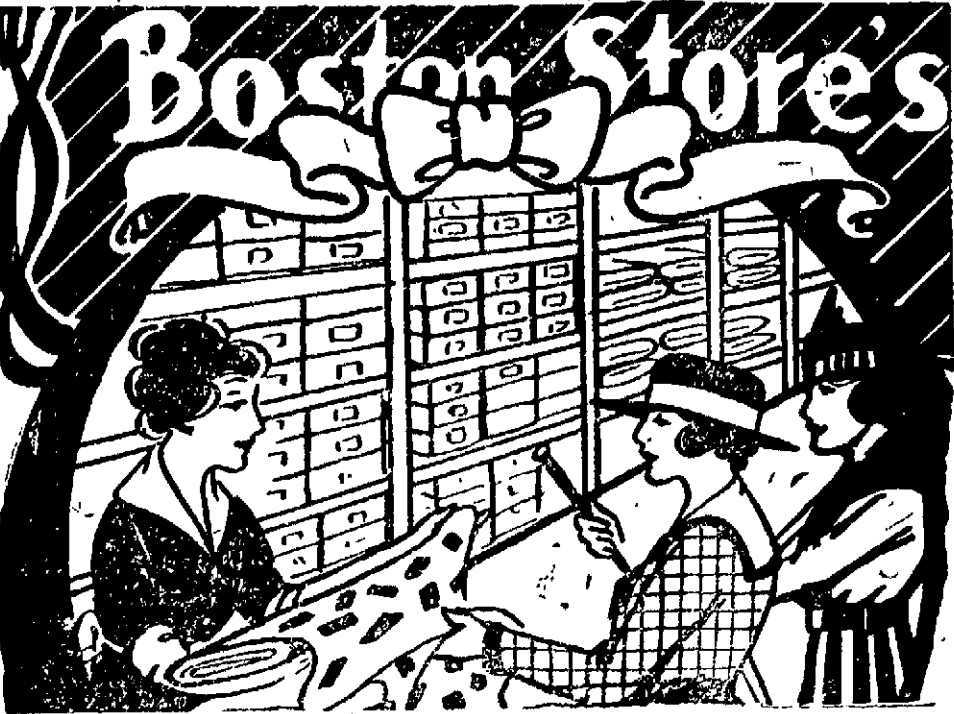

Fogs Have "Silence Zones."
 Fog bells and buoys are frequently ineffective, because of the "zones of silence" prevalent in fog banks. Frequently these zones not only retard a sound but stop it entirely. In the same bank of fog there will be a long lane through which sound will carry clearly. The result is that one ship may hear another that is far off and have no hint of a third that is close at hand.—People's Home Journal.

Right Road to Happiness.
 The unselfish are the happiest—those who work to make others happy and forget themselves. The dissatisfied are those who are seeking happiness for themselves.

HEALTH TALK
SPANISH INFLUENZA OR GRIP.
 BY DR. LEE H. SMITH.
 An old enemy is with us again, and whether we fight a German or a germ, we must put up a good fight, and not be afraid. The influenza runs a very brief course when the patient is careful, and if we keep the system in good condition and throw off the poisons which tend to accumulate within our bodies, we can escape the disease. Remember these three C's—a clean mouth, clean skin, and clean bowels. To carry off poisons from the system and keep the bowels loose, daily doses of a pleasant laxative should be taken. Such a one is made of Mayapple, leaves of sassafras, root of sassafras, and called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Hot lemonade should be used freely if attacked by a cold, and the patient should be put to bed after a hot mustard foot bath.

To prevent the attack of bronchitis or pneumonia and to cure the pain, Anuric tablets should be obtained at the drug store, and one given every two hours, with lemonade. The Anuric tablets were first discovered by Dr. Pierce, and as they flush the bladder and cleanse the kidneys, they carry away much of the poisons and the uric acid.

It is important that broths, milk, buttermilk, ice-cream and simple diet be given regularly to strengthen the system for increasing the vital resistance. The fever is diminished by the use of the Anuric tablets, but in addition, the forehead, arms and hands may be bathed with water (tepid) in which a tablespoonful of salicylic acid has been dissolved in quart. After an attack of grip or pneumonia to build up and strengthen the system, obtain at the drug store a good iron tonic, called "Fratello" Tablets, or that well known herbal tonic, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.—Adv.

Poster Stores
 This is Our Annual Xmas Sale, but for a time it seemed as if it would be impossible to hold it this year until the war was over. Now the Government has released all mills and prices are taking a drop. Hundreds of women who have bought their Winter Apparel from this sale, year after year, were waiting for it.

We are determined to hold it this year if it was humanly possible to do so and have the sale live up to its low price traditions. It is up to everyone these days to get the most they can for every dollar they spend. We can tell you that you cannot be sure of getting the best possible value until you've seen with your own eyes what this sale offers. Think what it means to buy fresh, New Winter Merchandise at legitimate savings from fair standard prices. Think what it means for a store to offer merchandise at such reduced prices as soon as the war was over. It means we bought the merchandise well below present worth; it means we're going to sell it at little profit and much at, and below cost owing to the drop in prices and all because it's an annual event our customers expect, and we don't want to disappoint them. This sale will include everything in the store.

SOLDIER BELIEVES HE WILL SOON BE BACK

"The boys are doing some wonderful fighting now. We have reasons to believe we will soon be back in the old U. S. A. once more," wrote Corporal Arthur L. Lugenbach to his aunt, Mrs. William Ridenbaugh of Black Run. The letter written October 30, reads: "We have been over here 15 months now. We are getting on our second winter now. Last winter was bad enough, but we are much further north this winter so you see it will be worse this winter. We are having rain every day now. We have two weeks of rain every year. I haven't heard from Roy for some time. He was about 200 miles from the last letter I had from him.
 "There are so few things that I can write about myself this letter writing is a very difficult task. I haven't any pictures of myself, but I will send you one as soon as I get some taken. The boys that are back in the intermediate zone can write just where they are and what they are doing. That is the reason they can write more than the boys in the advance zone. The boys are doing some wonderful fighting now. We have reasons to believe we will soon be back in the old U. S. A. once more."

Beauties of Constantinople.
 The city of Constantinople is full of beautiful and interesting things, but in the way of buildings, after Santa Sophia the mosque of Yemil Vahideh Sultan, the wife of Ahmed I, is the most wonderful. The effect of these tiled walls, as seen from Galata bridge, with their elaborate interlaced patterns and borders, is extremely striking and there seems to be nothing quite comparable to it. The tiles in this old mosque are considered to be among the finest in all Constantinople.
 "It always takes two to make a quarrel," quoted the Wise Guy, "and there's a will there's a way."

WRITES LETTER WITH INK LEFT BY FLEEING HUNS

"This is the first German stain for you, declares O'Neill Kreeger in telling of finding a bottle of German ink in a dugout from which the Germans had been driven only a few days before. He used the ink in writing his letter after his own fountain pen had run dry.
 Kreeger is with Battery B, 324th Field artillery. He states that the battery had been in two drives when his letter was written October 20. He said the boys had seen several thrilling air battles over the battle line. In a later letter, Kreeger sent a part of the airplane which he saw fall.
 Parts of his letter follow:
 "We sure are having a pretty time of it here. The boys are in the states put in the shade. My partner and I still have our little pup tent in use. It is draining the water pretty well. We have a few boards and a stretcher. We are all happy and glad to say we are sending Fritz souvenirs by the hundreds. That sure is our delight and if everything goes in the future as it has in the past we sure will have done our part.
 "I cannot begin to describe what all I have seen. I have been in small villages which have been shattered to the ground. I have been inside of several different kinds of dugouts. I have been in one a short time ago that the Huns occupied just three days before. So you see we are in touch with one another.
 "They send over quite a few souvenirs to us. Some are nice. When I come through the air I try to find a place to duck, if conditions are favorable. We are digging a dugout in which our section can all take refuge now. We will have it finished in a few days, and then we don't move again. This makes the second drive we have been in at this place.
 "After so long a time we received our mail. I got 29 letters and two postcards and a few Advantages. You don't have to know German to read the Advantages what few minutes I could find to do so. I was two days before I got all my mail read. So you see we are not leaving on the job.
 "There are no letters from home. I want to bring back a lot more from over here, after the war is over. Will finish this letter later.
 "Monday evening—Just found spare time to finish this. The airplanes are very common. I saw one when I was riding over the air at one time. I have also seen several air battles and several machines come down like falling stars. We received more mail today. I got seven more letters.
 "I have seen a bunch of German prisoners. What takes to get those lards, the Yanks have.
 "Well, you can see that I have ink. My pen went out and as luck would have it, we had some ink. I have written the first letter from Germany for you. I believe it is good ink at that.
 "I saw an air battle today. The allies plane brought down the Huns plane. The Huns were killed, so there are no Huns less. I also saw several prisoners who were captured today.
 "We have been in our second battle and only one casualty as yet. This makes the third letter I have written since I have been on the front. This is the first time. Hoping to see dear old U. S. A. inside of six months."

CATARHIAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Painmint (double strength) and add to it 14 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.
 This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Catarrhal deafness is open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has catarrhal deafness, head noises should give this prescription a trial. T. J. Evans, Adv.

WOMAN'S DEVOTION TO HOME.
 Home duties to many women appear more important than health. No matter how ill they feel, they drag themselves through their daily tasks, overdo and pay the penalty in headache, backache, dragging-down pains and nervousness; they become irritable, and finally discover that some form of female complaint has fastened itself upon them. When a woman gets into this condition there is one tried and true remedy made from the roots and berries of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has continued its great work among women restoring health after many other remedies have failed.—Adv.

BUILDING UP THE SYSTEM AFTER AN ATTACK OF FLU

Appetite and Strength Restored By Nerv-Worth, Says This Grateful User.

J. F. Bachar, well known Lake Erie writer, of Fostoria, O., has been "dragging around for two weeks," to use his own words, trying to recover from an attack of influenza. In the following signed statement he told Glenn H. Bacon, Fostoria's Nerv-Worth druggist, what built him up.
 "Nerv-Worth was recommended to me by a friend. I had had the influenza and was feeling so weak and out of fix I could not work. My appetite was very poor. Nerv-Worth seems to be just the thing for my case as my appetite is good and I am gaining strength. J. F. BACHAR, 227 E. Fremont St., Fostoria, O."

The Nerv-Worth demonstrator at Fostoria adds to the above Mr. Bachar's verbal statement that he took only half a bottle of Nerv-Worth to get such welcome results. Mr. Bachar further adds that he began taking Nerv-Worth on a Saturday and by the following Monday he was able to go to work.

Nerv-Worth Demonstrator J. G. England, who has just concluded a strikingly successful Nerv-Worth demonstration at Dayton, O., confirms the Fostoria testimony. He says not only that Nerv-Worth helped to rebuild those whom the influenza had knocked out over there but that among the many known to him as users of Nerv-Worth not one took the disease.
 No one should go "dragging around" after an attack of weakening grippe when Nerv-Worth is available as an upbuilder. Your dollar back if Nerv-Worth does not benefit you.
 J. G. England sells Nerv-Worth. Neighboring agencies: Ulca drug store, 1400 Newton drug store, Hebron; W. P. Ullman, Granville; C. S. Howard, Johnstown. 12-2-4

GIVES THANKS FOR CHANCE TO WASH

William L. Jones of Company I, 166th

infantry, writes he was able to wash

his face after two weeks. In his letter

he says:

"I have been in such a place that I could not write to anyone, but from now on I can write most any time I suppose you thought I was dead and buried because you had not heard from me but I am just as well as I was when I left old Newark, over a year ago, and thank God I can now wash my face. It was about two weeks that I never washed my face. I was too busy even for that.

"We have had some bad weather over here. It has rained almost every day for a week and the mud is shoe-top deep. So you can imagine how we fellows looked. But now I am getting cleaned up and feel like a soldier."

SINGER KNOWN

HERE KILLS SELF

Herman Borchers, Jr., 34, who will be remembered as the baritone singer at the Auditorium theater just before the flu ban was placed upon the moving picture houses and who endeavored to start a community singing at the local theater, committed suicide in Columbus yesterday afternoon by cutting his throat with a razor and dying while being taken to the hospital. He was suffering with the influenza and was also dependent on account of one of his daughters contracting the disease.

Mr. Borchers formerly traveled with the

Al G. Field minstrel. A sister—Miss

Corrine Borchers—sang with the quartet

at the Elk memorial services last Sunday.

EVANS QUITS SHIP

BUILDING POSITION

Ray Evans returned to this city yesterday from Newport News, Va., where he has been engaged in shipbuilding for the past seven months. He states that an average of 10 transports a week left that port loaded with soldiers for Europe during the last few months of the war, the largest of which—the General Grant—carried 6000 men. The Kaiser Wilhelm de Grosse carried about 5000 men. The Kaiser boat was one of the interned vessels and had special parlors, elegantly carved and furnished which was occupied by royalty at times when the big boat was under German control. Mr. Evans has accepted a position with the Zanesville Fruit company

by whom he was formerly employed.

ELKS PLAN WINTER

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

At a largely-attended meeting of the Elk lodge last evening arrangements were partly completed for the winter's activities, including entertainments, dances and the annual minstrel exhibition, rehearsals for which will begin in several weeks.

The lodge also adopted a resolution subscribing $500 to the industrial fund, realizing that the great benefits to be derived in the securing of factories will mean that the lodge will also be materially benefited.

On Tuesday evening, December 30, a large class will be initiated into the mysteries of Elkdom and it will be followed by a social session and banquet which will be served in the banquet hall.

LAST NIGHT'S SHOW.

With the swiss and rhythm characteristic of the race, the presentation of the "Famous Darktown Folies" in

"From Dixie to Broadway" was a combination of clever dancing, good comedy, fair singing and attractive scenery.

A fair sized audience saw the production, the star of which was "Fattie

Greene, comedian in the role of Colum-biana Hallwood. Greene had several clever song numbers including "Man

Born of a Dark Woman," "The Case," and "Nervous Knees." One of the big hits of the show was the appearance of the four Jazz Girls in their big song number, "Tumbling Blues."

There was scarcely a plot to hang the play together, it developing into a series of vaudeville sketches. The chorus was well balanced as to voices and dancing.

The play was well staged, and well equipped as to scenery.

Silence—"Some people marry happily and some acquire happiness after marriage." "Cynics—"While others get divorced and have happiness thrust upon them."

How Many "Years Young?"

"They that sleep shall never grow old" says the proverb.

And with much truth.

Many elderly persons take

Borden's Malted Milk not at night to induce restful, refreshing sleep. Easily digested.

Insist on Borden's—at all drug stores—in square packages only.
